

Why is greener working such a good idea?

Organisations who work in a forward-looking way will be more “future-proofed” and more profitable. By adopting sustainable policies and improving environmental credentials, the commercial benefits of greener working can be enormous.

Business benefits of greener working

- Making a great difference to your bottom line savings
- Boosting your reputation, corporate image, and brand performance - therefore increasing trust in your organisation
- Cutting down on energy use, water and waste to greatly reduce your costs
- Differentiation from competitors, thereby satisfying current clients and attracting new customers
- Gaining a high CRC Energy Efficiency Scheme League Table position
- Attracting, retaining and engagement with your employees, so improving morale at work
- Better building rental value leading to tenant retention
- Ensuring you comply with environmental legislation targets

Your path to greener working

- Set a simple strategy that has achievable targets; is business specific and involves all stakeholders.
- Reduce your energy & fuel consumption - save money instantly with no cost and low cost solutions.
- Implement waste recycling and management procedures - their visibility engages staff and customers and saves money too.
- Embrace legislation and make it work for you - don't be put off, use it as a catalyst for greater savings and competitor differentiation.
- Choose the right energy investment - buy wisely and seek independent advice on this developing and growing market.
- Engage your staff and clients - people engagement is just as important as any physical solution and has other benefits too.

Helping you achieve your greener working goals

At Paschali Greener Working Solutions we provide unbiased guidance and advice on how to change your company into a greener organisation and show you how to harvest the subsequent business benefits of sustainable greener working.

Energy & Carbon Management

Practical no nonsense advice on low cost ways to save energy, money and carbon. We'll develop a workable and robust action plan and support you to implement it.

To ensure a sound investment, we'll provide you with unbiased advice across a whole range of solutions from AMR installations to Voltage Optimisation.

CRC Support & Other Green Legislation

We'll show you how to use the CRC Energy Efficiency Scheme as a springboard for culture change and major savings. We'll prepare evidence packs and submit your annual and footprint reports. We'll advise on how to benefit from this and other new green legislation e.g. Energy Bill 2011.

Renewable Energy (FIT & RHI)

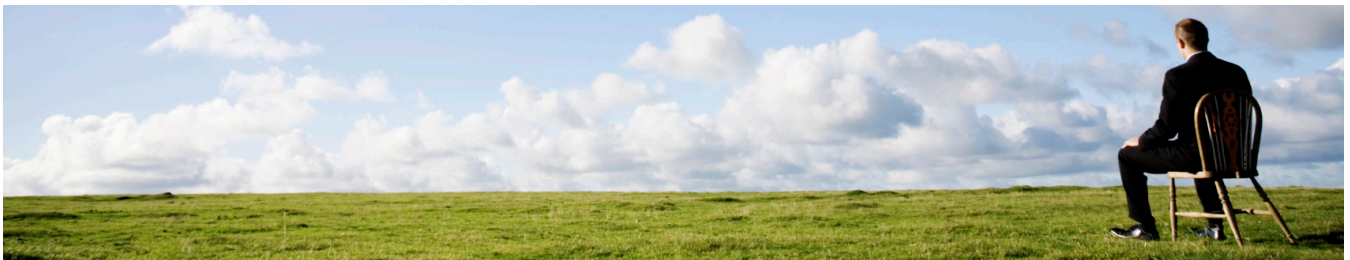

Guiding you in an unbiased way on the financial benefits and pitfalls of this confusing market which includes solar PVs; wind turbines; biomass boilers; feed in tariffs and renewable heat incentives. (FITs & RHIs). We vet designs and supervise installations to ensure fit for purpose.

Strategy & Implementation

Together we'll develop a simple business credible greener working strategy with appropriate targets, that suit your exact needs. We'll advise on practical physical building solutions, waste management and people engagement techniques. We'll then drive the strategy through to implementation and manage the whole process for you.

Existing Buildings Experts

We'll show you how to squeeze energy savings out of your existing buildings. Using simple low cost techniques 10% to 25% are achievable - we're renowned experts in this field! We're also specialists in BREEAM's In-Use for existing buildings and can provide accurate and inexpensive building EPC and DEC certification too.

What our clients say

"Barry's not just another consultant; he has a huge amount of experience of a technical nature and can justify his decisions, so we really understand the detail. Barry helped us pin down what is most important for our business."

Tina Wolder, Buildings Projects Director, Regus UK

"Barry is very inclusive, open to ideas and keen to get involvement and input from the team. He's helped create an atmosphere of creativity and fostered new ways of thinking, but always with the end goal in mind."

Robert McCann, Environmental Manager, Royal Mail Group

"The process lowered our overheads in a sector with very tight margins. We are now in a better position to win more work from new clients, because we meet their standards."

Alex Theodore, Managing Director, Theo's Pastry (suppliers to TESCO)

"We don't have the in-house knowledge nor a dedicated member of staff whose sole responsibility it is to look at this. So we rely on this cost-effective process and approach, which continues to save us money."

Mark Le Good, Regus UK Procurement Director
